

Aboriginal Business Delegate Communiqué Final Notice of Delegate Registration

(Vancouver, 10 Oct. 2008) The registrations are in! Our delegate list is impressive and investment opportunities are numerous! We knew this was a great idea when we first started but we didn't anticipate the global economy taking a dive during our planning, all the more reason for us to secure a prosperous and self-reliant future. We have invited Aboriginal Groups from across Canada to join us in an historic Aboriginal resources business opportunity Trade Mission to China. RCI and NITA have accommodated the tremendous response by expanding the delegation and extending the registration deadline.

Now is the time to secure your spot in an unprecedented historic journey to China. The Trade Mission focuses on securing Chinese investment partners and capital for Aboriginal delegates' businesses and projects in Canada:

1] THE MISSION: To take Canada's Aboriginal business leaders to China coinciding with a high-profile Canada-China Business Council event also attended by 5 Canadian Premiers and their delegations plus the China Mining Expo 2008 and additional events focusing specifically on putting your investment opportunities front and centre and squarely on the radar of Chinese investors.

2] THE OPPORTUNITY: China is flush with cash reserves, investment dollars and savvy private and institutional investors now looking for viable North American investments, especially access to a stable source of much-needed natural resources and participation in viable projects or businesses. You have to be at the table to be heard and forge the necessary interpersonal relationships that will lead to the mutually beneficial opportunities to be had. Do not miss this unprecedented window of opportunity. Make a decision to be at the table.

3] THE BENEFITS: Direct links to CEOs from China's leading companies, investment managers and senior Chinese officials and institutions nationally and in each of the Mission cities: Beijing, Chongqing, Xi-an, and Shanghai with special Delegate-focused forums and individual meetings for networking. This is an opportunity to increase your profile by giving your projects the exposure you need for investment now.

4] YOUR ACTION PLAN: What you need to do now to make it happen. Do not delay until it's too late and you have missed out on this unprecedented Aboriginal Trade Mission designed to showcase Canada's Aboriginal Business community in China and achieve concrete results. Call, fax or email your RSVP today then get your formal registration and payments to delegation organizers as quickly as possible.

Please carefully note that due to organizational requirements, capacity limitations at events, on international and Chinese domestic flights and for accommodations, no additional late registrations may be available beyond October 16th. Moreover, all delegate registrations will be confirmed on a first come-first serve basis until full capacity on or before this date with written RSVPs given priority. Please call 604-689-0881 to inquire after October 16th.
